

International Training Programme on Ageing

2015 Theme: Dementia and Memory Impairment

Date: 22, 23 & 24 September 2015 Dublin

Venue: Trinity College Dublin

Programme:

An international training programme on ageing will take place in Dublin on 22, 23, 24 September 2015 and will focus on building capacity amongst emerging leaders in ageing research. It has been organised by the Centre for Ageing Research and Development in Ireland (CARDI), in association with The Irish Network for Research in Dementia and Neurodegeneration (INRDND), The Alzheimer Society of Ireland, Alzheimer's Society Northern Ireland and the Canadian Institutes of Health Research Institute of Aging.

This programme will offer participants an opportunity to enhance their understanding of ageing and dementia from interdisciplinary and international perspectives; and to network with other emerging researchers as well as leaders from the field.

The programme will have a specific focus on Dementia and Memory Impairment. It will involve lectures, workshops, posters and oral presentations as well as small group discussions.

Lectures/Sessions include:

- The science of dementia
- Dementia public policy and public health
- Dementia data sources
- Interventions to support people with dementia and memory impairment
- Technological innovations to improve quality of life and care
- The subjective experience of dementia and memory impairment
- Dementia friendly environments: the importance of design
- International Networking
